Second Semester Updates

Monday January 29 is the first day of the second semester.

Students who were absent for any of their first semester finals should ask their teacher about exam makeups this week. We expect to finalize first semester grades and get report cards out this week.

We have several new and returning students joining us for the second semester. For new students, they should report to the main office in the morning, and we will provide their schedule and introduce them to a student with similar classes to shadow for the first day of the semester.

Class Schedule Updates

If a student has a question or concern about their schedule, they should complete a scheduling request on the counseling page of the website <https://www.artsacad.net/counseling/>

Students should follow the schedule as posted in PowerSchool. We have addressed all requests submitted by last Friday. We will continue to consider changes through this Friday. If counselors can make the requested change, it will be reflected in PowerSchool. If the change is not possible, students will be contacted by counselors.

Staff Updates

We have a few new teachers starting tomorrow. Ms. Kulick will be teaching math, Ms. Kaznowski and Ms. Maio will be teaching Special Education. Mr. Lewandowski will be taking on Special Education
